This after school activity will provide the opportunity for 5th graders to explore animation, sculpting, visual literacy, and multimedia concepts while working in small, collaborative teams of kids their own age led by a teacher who will guide their exploration and discovery. Each team will brainstorm an idea, create a storyboard and script, sculpt clay puppets, build scenery, and design special effects while shooting and editing a stop-motion animation movie. Students who participated in the fall Claymation are invited to join again and participate in the advanced portion of the class. There will be 7 sessions that run 1 1/2 hours each right after school.

All sculpting equipment, art supplies, digital cameras, and computer technology will be provided by the instructor. Each student will sculpt their own clay puppet and work in a team to create an original clay animated movie. At the end of the 7-week session, students will receive a DVD copy of any movies they created.
